Theatre practitioner Rachel Ellis and her students at CSVPA created a film "Making Peace to a Song", weaving movement, poetry & soundscape in response to education research & poetry by Dr Dita N. Love. The project highlights the healing power of creative community based on mutually transformative education research with imprisoned young men. The partnership also includes CSVPA MA graduates Lois Fordham & Razaq Bolarinwa (filmmaker/photographer). The poetic choreography brings to life the 'truth of the body' to honour the truth of experience, resist stigma, & inspire loving care for young lives.
